
A CHANGE IN BUSINESS MANAGER OF THE JOURNAL

Dr. Richard A. Popham has recently resigned as business manager of The Ohio Journal of Science after having served in this capacity since March of 1949, a total of fourteen years. The Journal has long benefitted from his services and they are greatly appreciated.

Dr. Gareth E. Gilbert of The Department of Botany and Plant Pathology of The Ohio State University has been elected to succeed Dr. Popham and has recently taken over the responsibilities of this office.
